IRAWMA categories for nomination

immediately following the, March 19th press conference announcing the official list of nominees, the general public/fans can visit www.irawma.com to select the winners in all the categories.

This is the fourth time in IRAWMA's 37 year history that Jamaica has been the host country, and the first time for it to be held in Kingston.

Kingston, Jamaica, January 12, 2019: Noted producer-publicist Angela Thame has been named the official publicist for this year's 37th International Reggae and World Music Awards (IRAWMA) and "TheReggae50", fifty years of reggae from 1968/69 to present. The ceremony takes place on Mother's Day weekend, Saturday, May 11, 2019, Bob Marley Transition Day at the Jamaica Pegasus Hotel in Kingston, the first time it will be held in the capital city.

Chairman of Martin's International and founder of the Awards, Ephraim Martin said he welcomed Thame's professionalism, creativity and dedication in guiding the venerable awards show. Martin added that he felt it a logical progression to move the event to Jamaica. "It's the home of reggae music, which is a global cultural phenomenon, and we want to help re-focus the music world's attention on this."

Thame, who continues to head the marketing/media/production consultancy she founded in 1993, has a wealth of international experience in public relations, television production and project management, including international success as a television producer.
